The Co-Curriculum

At Nottingham High School we aim to provide more than academic excellence, giving our students opportunities to gain skills that prepare them for life.

One of the three fundamental pillars of a Nottingham High School's education, the Co-Curricular provision sits at the very heart of any great school.

The Co-Curriculum is everything that we run alongside our Academic Curriculum, and is a tremendously important part of what we offer here at Nottingham High School. We provide a wealth of opportunities and encourage each student to develop their current interests and explore new ones.

As a School we are incredibly proud of the quality and variety of activities offered to our students and the incredible benefits we see through their involvement in this programme.

Tutors provide help and guidance to encourage tutees to take opportunities to develop as both students and people. These clubs encourage growth in the 'soft' skills so talked about in the 21st century and help build the child's character as they navigate their way to adulthood.

The vast array of activities link together to promote:

Resilience, Confidence, Creativity,
Teamwork, Leadership, Physical Health, Problem solving, Well-being & Mindfulness

Our House system provides further opportunity for students to take part in cultural, sporting and charity activities. From involvement in the Performing Arts and Sports, to participation in clubs, societies and charity events. Our provision of termly School Activities Days, there is an absolute wealth of amazing experiences here at Nottingham High School.

It is not just enough to offer these experiences to our current pupils and through our Partnership programme we provide Outreach to local schools and Charities ensuring that as many people as possible can benefit from the School and its incredible facilities and students.

This booklet provides information about the clubs and activities currently running this academic year. The information may be subject to change, so students should continue to look out for notices in Form time, Tutor Sets, Assemblies and check the School's website for updates of any new clubs being offered.

We live in an ever-changing world and we will continue to change and evolve the Co-Curricular programme ensuring the leaders of tomorrow are equipped with the skills and humanity to lead society.
