MESSAGE FROM MRS BRUCE

Dear Parents and Friends of the School

It has been a very exciting start to the beginning of this half-term and the children have returned to school with their usual level of enthusiasm.

I was very proud of the Junior School last Friday during our service of remembrance to mark Armistice Day. Mr Cordy led us in a very informative and moving assembly, focussing on the experience of one particular soldier. While the children (and staff) listened respectfully and attentively throughout, the most 'goosebump' moment was when he announced at the end that the soldier in question was in fact his great grand-father. He highlighted that his great-grandfather's survival ensured the continuation of his family line. The connection was then made to other families whose lineage was cut short as loved ones did not (or do not) return from service. It was one of those privileged times where you can truly see the impact that words or lessons have on young people.

CRIME SCENE · DO NOT CROSS · CRIME SCENE · DO NOT CROSS

Unfortunately, this week, I was alerted to some shocking events happening in EYFS. Everyone had returned from break-time to find some large footprints in their classroom and some empty sweetie papers.....! (The children were keen to emphasis that there were; 'No sweets left!'). On hearing this news, I of course went straight to Reception assuming I was to be part of the investigation team; it turns out that I was under suspicion! Thankfully, our clever EYFS detectives were able to examine my footwear and foot size against the evidence and concluded (much to my relief) that I could not be the culprit. Reports were made and evidence gathered and, later in the week, this was all handed to our visitors from Nottingham City Police. We await the outcome of the investigation and hope that none of the staff are 'in the frame'!

With all best wishes,

Mrs Bruce
